Something to think about

An interstate driver spends approximately 17% of his time at home, 15% of that is sleeping leaving just 2% of his time for his family.

There are 1000s of names on Truck Drivers Memorial's and they all said it wouldn't happen to them.

Depression in the transport industry is more common than you realise, on average one in five drivers are affected by this medical condition. Undetected or ignored can result in a serious illness.

Introduction

Life in this industry is tough, with rising costs of fuel, registration, maintenance, tyres and the cost of living - things are getting tougher, not only for the operators but also their families.

When drivers are off the road because of a truck breakdown; are made redundant, or unable to work because of ill health - there is no income. This means they cannot afford to pay their bills, can't feed their families and in many cases lose their truck, house or car to clear the debit.

Personal health is ignored, as taking time out for medical attention means loss of a day's work. As a driver's health continues to fail, unknowingly they become a hazard to themselves as well as the public - only seeking help when it is too late.

The Trans-Help Foundation Inc has been established to provide a national network to bridge the gap and assist those who are in need.

The Trans-Help Foundation is now aligned with

Driver Membership

We ask you to support the Trans-Help Foundation by becoming a member.

We sincerely hope the day never comes when you or your family needs our support.

By becoming a member you can support others within the transport industry that are in need.

You will also be kept informed of our progress and services. You will have the reassurance that we are here if you or your family are ever in need.

Company Sponsorship

Whether you are a fleet operator or your company benefits from the transport industry, we ask you to sincerely consider sponsoring the Trans-Help Foundation. There are various levels of sponsorship available and we are only too happy to arrange a meeting to discuss these in further detail, or you may wish to request a sponsorship package to peruse at your convenience.

Many drivers and their families are affected by the hardships of the road transport industry and the Trans-Help Foundation is here to assist those who are in need.

Even company owners can benefit with support, understanding and assistance available where needed.

As the Trans-Help Foundation grows, so will its support and assistance.

Our Logo

Symbolises the many difficult crossroads faced within the transport industry; the driver, the embracing of the family and the historical Australian icon "The Blue Singlet".

Blue Singlet Day

A national event the THF will hold annually. Check on our website for details
